

Stay Involved with the Antelope Valley RCIS

Public Meeting

Your input and comments are very important and will help to inform the planning team of information or key items that should be considered or incorporated into the Draft AV RCIS.

Questions or comments may be submitted by March 24th to DMCA, c/o Michelle Osborn, michelle.osborn@icf.com.

Ongoing Outreach and Input

The Planning team will continue to acquire focused expert input and local knowledge from the environmental group community, and stakeholders review for written work products.

The following have agreed to provide regular expert input and local knowledge throughout the process:

- Tom Eagan (Defenders)
- Stephanie Dashiell (TNC)
- Garry George (Audubon)
- Greg Suba (CNPS)

Outreach, one-on-one calls, etc. to local governments, agencies, and other non-environmental group stakeholders will continue to take place through the development of the administrative draft.

Additional meetings will be scheduled for members of the steering and advisory committees, stakeholder groups, and the general public as needed.

Release of Draft AV RCIS

Once the Draft AV RCIS is released, the public will be notified and will have 30 days to provide comments on the document. The exact dates of this release are expected late spring/early summer.
